

Evansville Water & Light celebrates Public Power Week Oct. 4-10

Evansville Water & Light is celebrating the importance of public power Oct. 4-10, during Public Power Week, along with more than 2,000 other electric utilities that collectively provide electricity on a nonprofit basis to 45 million Americans.

“Public Power Week honors Evansville Water & Light’s hometown service,” said Scott George, Superintendent of Evansville Water & Light. “As a public power community, we are locally-owned and customer-focused, dedicated to community choice and community control.”

Public Power Week is a national, annual event sponsored in conjunction with the American Public Power Association, the national service organization for community and state-owned electric utilities in Washington, D.C. Public Power Week supports the ongoing theme “Public Power: An American Tradition that Works.” This year marks the 23rd anniversary of Public Power Week as a country-wide program for local citizens and other key publics, including state and national officials.

Evansville Water & Light invites community members to sign up for a drawing to win an ENERGY STAR appliance to celebrate Public Power Week. The winner may purchase any ENERGY STAR rated refrigerator, washer, or dishwasher from Appliance Works and will be reimbursed up to $1,000. Register for the drawing at City Hall or at Appliance Works (33 W Main St) October 4-10 to win. Only customers of Evansville Water & Light are eligible. Limit one registration per Water & Light account/household.

“Evansville Water & Light continues to be an advocate for our customers and their needs, employing the highest standards of service as they align with the principles of public power,” said Water & Light Energy Services Representative Alicia Rankin.
